28.     Reeva was once an open hearted woman, willing to make peace with humans moving into her Chicago neighbourhood and was against her friend Benizer's plan of having them push out the humans trying to move into their Mutant district. However that all changed when Benizer was killed in front of her by Purifiers. The pain of seeing her only real friend die hardened Reeva, she became ruthless and determined, developing a strong hatred for anyone who doesn't carry an X-Gene. Reeva is a staunch believer in the ways of the Hellfire Club, writing off the X-Men's goal of co-existing with humans as nothing more than a "failed dream". She is also vicious and unforgiving, having demonstrated the will to kill anyone that she perceives as a threat to her own goal, ally and foe alike. She has a somewhat hypocritical nature since she claims to be doing all her actions for the future of her people but will willingly sacrifice as many Mutants as it takes to make her dreams reality.↵

23.       <h1>Life story of Reeva Payge</h1>↵
24.       Reeva grew up in the slums of Southside Chicago. She spent most of her life the subject of prejudice, first because of her poverty, then because of the colour of her skin and lastly because she was a mutant. Growing up, Reeva's only friend was a girl named Benazir, they protected and loved each other. One day, Reeva and Benazir got into a fight and soon after were attacked by a gang of Purifiers. Reeva attempted to summon her powers to defend them but her anger about the fight with Benazir got in the way and her abilities would not come. Benazir was stabbed in the confrontation and all Reeva could do was weep as her friend bled out and died in the street. Eventually, she took certain risks that led to building her wealth and social status until she was able to earn a seat in the Inner Circle. ↵

26.     <h2>Abilities and Skills</h2>↵
27.     Reeva can generate a high note from her vocal cords that directly affects the brain's neuro-chemistry. Her sonic scream is capable of scrambling brains. The frequency she creates appears to be capable of blocking other mutants' powers. She Reeva can also direct her powers towards certain people while leaving others unaffected, allowing her to incapacitate enemies without effecting her allies even if they are in close proximity. It is said she can make her victims feel like they're in the process of dying and her powers are lethal. Reeva activates her abilities by inhaling through her nose, then releasing the sound. Though seemingly a whisper, the frequency of the note is beyond an ordinary human's ability to hear.↵
